ANTI-VICE CRUSADE IS EXTENDED TO ROADHOUSES

Grant Extends Investigation to Contra Costa County, and Complains of the Resorts Near Richmond and Stege

DECOTO PROMISES TO ENFORCE LAW HERE

State Law Enforcement League Demands Prosecutions Under Redlight Abatement Measure and Furnishes Its Affidavits

Affidavits that a rooming house in the 200 block on Twelfth street is operating in violation of the Red Light Abatement act, and that one of his investigators, who was probing into vice conditions in Richmond and the Contra Costa roadhouses, had been taken to this Oakland house by a taxicab driver he had met in a Richmond saloon, were sent to District Attorney Ezra Decoto and Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. B. Jackson today by former Senator E. E. Grant, executive of the State Law Enforcement League. Grant charged that he had evidence that the place was running in violation of the law and that liquor was sold there.

"I am waiting for Grant to carry out his agreement," said Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman today when the contents of the new affidavits were made known to him by a TRIBUNE reporter.

"At our conference with Grant and Mrs. Artieda he agreed to have his investigators come here and swear to complaints against those places which he considered had the best cases against for court purposes. Neither Grant nor any of his investigators have visited my office since."

"We are ready to carry out our part of the agreement as soon as he or his investigators swear to the complaints. When he is ready this new place will be included with the others."

SHOULD FILE SUIT, DECLARES DECOTO.

"If Grant has the evidence against this place, a redlight abatement suit will be filed," said District Attorney Decoto. "I have not received Grant's letter, but as soon as it comes I shall take the matter up and will see that action is brought if there is a sufficient basis for the suit."

"I am going to see that the abatement law is enforced in Alameda county."

Grant's letter to Decoto referred to the evidence he had already submitted to the predecessor of the District Attorney in office, W. H. L. Brown, and asked that this be taken up with the previous affidavits. The letter to Commissioner Jackson follows:

"Enclosed I send you an affidavit showing that only last night a taxi driver named Schwartz from Richmond took one of my investigators into one of the most notorious houses in Oakland, being the Glenn rooming house, located in the 200 block on Twelfth street, Oakland. I have information that this dead-end has been operating for some time in flagrant violation of the law. The affidavit shows that booze was sold in this house in violation of the law. This is only an added demonstration of the intimate connection between vice and booze as shown by the action of Oakland saloons in directing the United States sailor in uniform to houses of vice in violation of the United States laws. My investigator met Schwartz, a taxi driver, who had this affidavit on his list in a saloon in Richmond.

"Trusting you will take prompt action against this notorious dive, I am, 'E. E. GRANT.'"

The vice crusade of the State Law Enforcement League was extended to Contra Costa county today, when Grant forwarded affidavits to Secretary of State and Attorney General Daniels giving a narrative of visits made by his investigator to alleged vice resorts in Richmond and Stege, to which they declare they were directed by saloonkeepers in Richmond, thus establishing the connection between immorality and violations of the Red Light Abatement Act and the saloon business in Richmond.

Grant specifically charges that "some of these roadhouses along the San Pablo avenue and county road line have been a stench in the nostrils of decent citizens of Richmond for many years" but that his investigators were told by women in the places that "there was no danger of

Reed and Caine in Quarrel Gier, Patriotism Is at Issue

Captain Joseph E. Caine, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Fred Reed, realty operator and a director of the Oakland Rotary Club, were the centers of a wordy war that followed today's luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Hotel Oakland, when charges of "cheap patriotism," "kicking a man when he's down," and "foolish sentimentality" were bandied, and for a time open conflict was threatened as the result of an argument in which Reed defended Colonel Theodore Gier, local merchant, accused of disloyalty, against Caine's accusations.

Gier's case will come shortly before the directors of the club for action. Adjutant General J. J. Borree, who investigated the Gier matter, was present at the affair.

Reed had declared that he believed Gier to be a loyal American and that he was "against kicking a man when he was down."

"I'm against any man who refuses to kick the flag," shouted Caine. "He gloried when the Lusitania was sunk. He associated with Germans!"

DECLARES REED IS NOT RETROGRADE.

"He may have done all that before the war," said Reed. "That has nothing to do with the matter. He has done more for this town than you or any one else here for years!"

"I don't care if he's paved Oakland with gold," shouted Caine. "He refused to kick the flag."

"This is no time to kick a man because of what happened at the supervisors, when a fool woman put up the insulting proposition Gier was forced to submit to!" retorted Reed. "I have no patience with such cheap patriotism."

"Don't you dare call my patriotism cheap!" shouted Caine, showing the bystanders aside and facing Reed.

"I'll allow no man to get by with that!"

"Don't quarrel," said Reed. "You know what I mean. 'Give Gier a square deal. You're all trying to convict him unheard. He has supported all three Liberty loans.'"

"Can you prove that?" demanded Borree. "I have been trying to get proof of that for several days."

Read promised proof.

RAS COME BACK ON EXPATRIATION SCORING.

"If you were as tender for good, loyal Americans, Fred, as you are for Gier," said Caine, "I think I would think more of your patriotism."

"No one can doubt my patriotism. I don't give a damn if they do. I have a brother in France," retorted Reed.

"The man has given aid to the enemy," he bailed out the Kaiser-hoofers," shouted Caine.

Evans interrupted and broke up the discussion.

Today's luncheon of the Rotary Club was "dressed" as a Liberty Loan meeting, with speakers from the bond committee in charge. The entire club was organized as a fighting committee to solicit bonds, and to induce every employee of every business house to "subscribe. Superintendent Fred Hunter of the Oakland schools pledged his entire department to the work.

Whether Colonel Theodore Gier, Oakland merchant, recently accused of disloyalty before the Board of Supervisors, will hold his office with the State Bureau of Agriculture will depend on consideration by Governor Stephens of testimony taken in the hotel Oakland today by Adjutant General J. J. Borree, who conducted a hearing at which Gier and members of the party, who are alleged to have held a Hoch Kaiser affair at Livemore, were interrogated. Borree, who came from Sacramento yesterday, in a statement made at the hearing, questioned employees of the Cresta Blanca winery, where the party is alleged to have been held, and also questioning local business men as to Colonel Gier's record in Oakland.

"I am not able to give any snap judgment in this," said Borree, "and therefore can make no statement regarding the evidence laid before me. All I can do is have the transcript made, read it over carefully, comparing it with statements made by Gier, and place the evidence, together with any conclusions I might draw, before the Governor. Any statement will have to come from him."

Borree's investigation was made public in a statement of the Governor, nor, it was stated at the meeting, in order to guide him in handling the demand now before him that Gier be ousted from the state board.

TEACHERS WILL FACE ACTIVE ON PROBES FOR FRONT OF DISLOYALTY FIFTY MILES

Two at Technical High School to Be Brought Before Superintendent Hunter to Explain Alleged Acts and Sayings

THREE OTHERS ARE UNDER SUSPICION

Meeting Held in Mosswood Park Said to Have Been the Basis for Charge; Students Say They Overheard "Talk"

Three teachers of the Technical High school will face hearings late today on charges of disloyal utterances before Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunter as the result of investigations by the school department and the police extending over a period of several months. Three other teachers, also under suspicion, will probably also be questioned.

The hearing grew out of complaints made by students and others that German propaganda was being furnished through remarks of the teachers in question whose names are being withheld by the school department.

Among the testimony is that of several students at the high school who had shadowed the teachers in question at a meeting held in Mosswood Park, where the teachers are alleged to have discussed the war issues in German and where it is alleged pro-German sentiments were uttered.

Written depositions have been taken from these students and other depositions from teachers and others interested are in the hands of the school authorities. Two of the teachers, it was said before the meeting, would be offered the alternative of resigning or being arrested, and the others, it was said, would possibly resign without question rather than face further investigation.

Last term several teachers were ousted from the department because of pro-German utterances and other department employees were recently dismissed for the same cause. According to the school department officials, today's action will "clean up the situation" at the Technical high school which had been declared by government operatives to contain more disloyal employees than any other school.

Roof Blown Off School At Elmhurst

Warned of danger just in time, 35 pupils in a portable school building at the Elmhurst school were conducted to safety today a few minutes before half the roof of the building was torn away by a high wind blown a distance of forty feet into the street. Nothing that the roof was giving way under the force of the wind, Miss Louise Drury, a plucky teacher, was fearful that it would collapse, crushing the children. She hurried the children out of the flimsy building, and just as she had gotten them to safety the roof was wrenched off. None was hurt. Shortly after a wooden wall 15 feet by 40 feet, used for handball by the children, was blown down.

None of the children was near at the time. The hapless was blown from the main building.

The wind blew so hard out at Fabola hospital that it blew in a window in the operating room, the flying glass cutting the hand of Miss Anna Linderman, a nurse. Miss Linderman was standing at the window at the time. No patient was in the room.

Heavy Loss by Divers Suffered by British

LONDON, April 18.—British merchant ships sunk during the week ending April 15 included eleven of more than 1600 tons, four of less tonnage and one fishing vessel, according to the admiralty's report.

This is the heaviest submarine toll since the week ending March 25, when sixteen large ships and twelve small ones were destroyed. The toll for the week ending April 8, which was next to the lowest since unrestricted U-boat warfare was inaugurated, included four large ships and two small ones.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 18.—Heavy spring rains have brought a period of comparative quiet to the American sectors, except for violent artillery duels.

The weather has limited aerial activity also. The enthusiasm of the Americans, however, is growing stronger daily. The first request of American wounded is to return to the front. Lieutenant George Patton of New York, a surgeon attached to the infantry, is one of the latest Americans to win the French war cross for bravery.

It came about this way. The Americans were working in a wood that was suddenly flooded by the Germans with mustard gas without any warning. Patton, finding that his gas mask retarded first aid measures, pulled it off. He was overcome by the fumes, but recovered when taken to a hospital.

As a result of his self-sacrifice he is now idolized by his troops.

Germany Direct Attacks Further South, Making Bethune New Objective

(By Associated Press) LONDON, April 18.—Southeast of Kemmel Hill, on the northern battle front, the Germans pressed back the British line slightly, but the situation was restored by a counter-attack, he war office announced. During the night there was no change in the British front.

In the Baillieu sector the Germans made three attacks before noon yesterday and in each case suffered a complete repulse.

The Germans opened a heavy bombardment on the British positions on the southwestern part of the Lys battle front, between Loon and Robecq, during the night. The bombardment was still in progress at dawn today. The statement reads:

There has been no change on the British front during the night. The hostile artillery has shown great activity on the southern portion of the Lys battle front from Givenchy to east of Robecq. A heavy bombardment of our positions between Loon and Robecq was still continuing at dawn.

Local attacks were repulsed by our troops yesterday evening in Merris sector.

More detailed accounts of the fighting of yesterday on the Nieppe-Wytschate front established the severity of the enemy's losses. Southeast of Kemmel Hill the German infantry attacked in three waves and at one point pressed back our line slightly. The situation was restored by a counter-attack and shortly after mid-day the attack had been repulsed at all points. In the Baillieu sector the enemy attacked three times before mid-day and in each case suffered a complete repulse. Our line of yesterday evening was reported intact on the whole front.

PARIS, April 18.—After a preliminary bombardment strong German detachments attempted to advance last night near Corbeny, on the Aisne front. Today's official statement says the attack was broken up by the French fire. The statement follows:

In the region of Corbeny the French caught under their fire and dispersed a strong German detachment which attempted to approach the French lines after artillery preparation.

The Germans undertook several raids in the Champagne and on the right bank of the Meuse, especially to the east of Caurieres Wood and near Damloup. All the enemy's forces were repulsed and prisoners remained in our hands.

Northwest of Rois, in Lorraine, we succeeded in several incursions into the German lines and took a certain number of prisoners.

PARIS, April 18.—During the week ending April 13 German submarines did not succeed in sinking any French ships of more than 1600 tons, one ship under that tonnage, however, fell prey to the enemy.

ROME, April 18.—One Italian merchantman of more than 1500 tons and two smaller craft were sunk by enemy submarines in the past week, it was officially announced today. One steamer beat off a U-boat attack.

KAISER WANTS TO KNOW WHAT HE HAS DONE

AMSTERDAM, April 18.—Emperor William has made a visit to the battlefield near Quant, west of Cambrai, a war correspondent of the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger writes.

"His majesty's silence was broken only once," he says, "when he remarked to an officer who stood beside him, 'What have I done? What have I not done to preserve the world from these horrors?'"

German Diver Sinks U. S. Steamer Raven

NEW YORK, April 18.—The American steamship A. A. Raven, a vessel of 2453 tons gross register, owned by J. W. Elwell and Company, was sunk by a submarine during the second week of March, according to word received here today.

The A. A. Raven was last reported in an American port in February of this year. She was under requisition by the United States Shipping Board for foreign service and when last heard from had been assigned to the Army Quartermaster's Department abroad. No details of the sinking have been received.

Aircraft Officials to Resign if Wanted

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Officials now engaged in the government's aircraft production program have expressed their willingness to President Wilson to resign if he desires, preliminary to his expected reorganization of this branch of the war work.

Navy Yard Employees Pay Increases May 1

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The wage increase for civilian employees in Pacific Coast navy yards, agreed on April 11, which provides for 18 to 20 per cent pay increases, will be made effective May 1, the Navy Department announced today.

Baltic Fleet Escaped Huns at Helsingfors

WASHINGTON, April 18.—All important units of the Russian Baltic fleet escaped when the Germans occupied Helsingfors, official dispatches received today say. Most of the Russian craft had been withdrawn, probably to the naval base of Kronstadt, near the famous battleship Ypres. Menin road and the English were compelled to yield slightly. The German losses, however, were very severe, as columns advancing the attack in dense formation were caught under direct artillery fire.

HOOVER NOW HAS RIGHT TO SEIZE WHEAT

Absolute authority to seize wheat which is being held either by farmers or in warehouses contrary to the interest of the government, was given today to Federal Food Commissioner Ralph P. Merritt by Herbert C. Hoover over the latter's signature.

It was announced that these seizures will be made only in flagrant cases where conclusive evidence is shown that the grain is being withheld from the market by pro-German or through influence inimical to the government. In other cases regular requisition proceedings will be instituted.

Following is the warrant of authority received by Merritt today:

"Know all men by these presents that Ralph P. Merritt, state food commissioner for California, either personally or by a deputy duly appointed and authorized by him, is hereby authorized and directed for and on behalf of the undersigned to take possession of all wheat located in the state of California which has been or may be requisitioned by the undersigned for public uses connected with the common defense.

(Signed) "HERBERT C. HOOVER."

The immediate appointment of Walter Starr, of the grain corporation of the Food Administration, to act as Merritt's representative, was made and the methods of payment for seized wheat arranged for.

If the owner is willing to fix the price fixed by the grain corporation, cash will be paid on delivery. If the owner, however, refuses to accept this, he will be penalized. Seventy-five per cent of the full amount of the grain corporation's price will be accepted by him and he can then sue the government for the balance of what he considers a reasonable price for his property, the grain, however, being seized.

Merritt announced that the government was determined that the wheat in the hands of the grain corporation shortly after May 1, and active work of seizing it, wherever found to be held by unpatriotic or pro-German influences, will begin on the completion of a survey now practically finished.

FLANDERS BATTLE NOT SURPASSED IN ITS INTENSITY

LONDON, April 18.—Never has artillery fire reached such intensity as in the battle of Flanders. The same thing was said of the battle on the Ploardy plains, but it has been surpassed in the mighty engagement raging along the Franco-Belgian frontier.

Night and day the massed cannon on both sides keep thundering and the roar can be heard for a hundred miles. The earth rocks and the sea seems to be in sympathy with the noise and shocks.

Gives Vivid Tale of Mighty Battle Correspondent Tells of Bailleul

By William Philip Simms,
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES NEAR BAILLEUL, April 18.—The fight now progressing is the most spectacular of the war.

From a hilltop near Bailleul it can be observed as from a balcony seat. Miles upon miles, from around the Passchendaele salient—from which the British were voluntarily withdrawing—to far southwestward of Bailleul—is visible to the naked eye. With field glasses, infantry can be plainly seen on the move.

The battles of Cambrai, Verdun and Messines were all in a hill country affording the scantiest glimpses. But from elevations around Bailleul, the war's most dramatic panorama stretches out with scarcely a tree clump obscuring the view.

Across fertile miles of farms men are visible going into action. Shells burst in pasture lands. Abandoned cows cease grazing and stare in mild astonishment at the strange eruptions. The sky is filled with black and white cloud puffs and with low-flying airplanes in contact with infantry, dropping signal rockets to point out targets to the artillery.

The rattle of machine guns and the bass thunder of heavy artillery, combined with the ear-splitting volleying bangs of guns is a worthy orchestra to the greatest drama of all times.

Flashes from guns and howitzers cleverly concealed, or frankly out in the open, leaped dazlingly—sometimes startlingly near—while the horizon flickers like thousands of pocket mirrors flashing in the sunlight.

In the foreground a German shell crumps fairly into a farmhouse. The former occupants probably are tramping along the roads, regretting they ever left home. The house gives off a white smoke for a few minutes, then a flag of flames mounts toward the sky.

Gas shells drop into idyllic fields in full cultivation. Struggling vapors are trailing heavily across the sprouting crops. An apparently fearless crow is due for the surprise of his life.

The whole business looks unreal from this hilltop. It gives the impression of a monster open-air spectacle in commemoration of an important centennial. This is enhanced when I see a gutter duck from a blazing battery, bucket in hand, and chase an ownerless red cow—forgetting for the supper milk, like an awkward stage hand engaged in some ridiculous thing in the midst of an Irvingesque turn.

As the while you are standing in front of a tiny, white-washed and thatched cottage, feeling alone in a world where everything is soldiers, death and war.

You turn, go and halt—startled. Peering through a little square-paned window, you see, outlined against the darkened interior, the white face of an aged woman. Behind her is an old man, staring fixedly toward the plains. They have lived in that cottage too long to leave it.

A little way down the slope a German shell burst above a similar cottage. Bits of red-tiled floor fly in every direction. Now the enemy's artillery is registering on the hill.

A tabby cat, lying on a discarded "bully beef" can, scampers off through a hole in the hedge. Even he is deserting the old place. But inside the cottage the old man lays his hand on the woman's shoulder. Together they watch the fields below.

It makes you walk on tip toe. For these folks and those they symbolize, the end of the world seems to have come.

'HOCH KAISER' 12 LOSE APPEAL

foe in the destruction of that liberty have no place in a court of law after conviction of guilt by a fair-minded jury. The punishment prescribed by the law is inadequate to the measure of the offense.

Attorney Lacey argued throughout the forenoon upon every phase of the defense, contending that the complaint was insufficient in that it recited the language of the statute, accused the defendants of "loud and unusual noise and offensive conduct" that disturbed the peace of the complaining witness. Lacey read from the transcript that the complaining witnesses, M. D. Myron and Richard, testified that the defendants were not talking in a loud tone. He contended that the only remaining element of the complaint was the alleged offensive conduct, and offered affidavits of five other people who were in the cafe to the effect that the conduct of the defendants attracted no comment and was not offensive, and that they were not heard to speak a word to the Kaiser.

Lacey offered to show by witnesses that at the order of the Liberty Loan Committee a large sign was made and displayed in a parade bearing the words, "Hoch the Kaiser," and contended that the expression as used by Americans is meant in derision of the Kaiser, rather than in imitation and that by reason of the fact that neither of the complaining witnesses understood the German language it was impossible for them to say whether if the expression was employed it was employed derisively as by Americans or as a toast as by the Germans. He said that the German word "hoch" in the toast is pronounced with a long "o," as in "hope," whereas it was debatable whether that pronunciation was given on the occasion in question, or whether the word and sound employed was as in the American "sock."

Tomorrow will be circus day. Al G. Barnes' wild animal circus will put Oakland in the jungle for two days. They will arrive early tomorrow and begin transporting the animals to the circus grounds at Forty-fifth and San Francisco.

The parade is scheduled to leave the circus grounds promptly at 10:30 and wind its way through the principal downtown streets. Most of the 1200 animals Barnes' circus contains can be seen in the parade, as all the dogs are open. Llamas, camels, zebras, ostriches, elephants and ponies are in the parade.

golden dens containing the dangerous animals and the trainers will be seen sitting beside their jungle pets. There are bands and bands of colorful, ball-tossing hands, jazz bands, girls and men in gorgeous costumes riding well caparisoned horses. Great swaying gray "monster pachyderms" that reach out their trunks for a tit bit of the shuffles along. Leading the Parade are bugler girls and foremost a standard bearer carrying the Barnes Circus service flag. Sixty-eight stars show something of the number of circus people to be found in the American battalions.

The show will return to the circus grounds, where free exhibits and pink lemonade and side show barkers, and all things that make a circus circus will take place. The doors to the big top will open and at 1 p. m. the band will begin playing, giving an hour of entertainment before the program begins and again in the evening you will see this wonderful land of jungle beasts in educated circus roles doing the many things you have been reading about and a great many other things.

It must not be forgotten by prize winners in The TRIBUNE animal contest that these are war days and every one pays the government for their amusements. GIVES BIRTHDAY PARTY
SAN LEANDRO, April 18.—Miss Madeline Silva, a popular member of the younger set, was given a party in honor of her eighteenth birthday anniversary at the home of J. J. Bally this week. Many of her friends attended the celebration.

RICH UKRAINE TURNED INTO HUN COLONY?

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Austrian troops in the Ukraine have refused to do service on the west front, or even in Italy, according to rumors reaching the State Department today.

In addition to these rumors, authentic information showed the Teutons are trying to convert the Ukraine into a German-Austrian colony.

Germany and Austria have assumed complete control of Ukraine, according to confidential advisers reaching the State Department today. These reports say that apparently the object of the Teutons is to make this territory, formerly the richest in Russia, entirely Austro-German in character. All communication with Russia proper has been cut off. All native officials have been replaced with Austrians and Germans.

Orders have been issued for the arrest of all native officials in the territory, military and, it is believed, consular. Austrian and German money is the only medium of trade.

These reports say. It also is reported, but not yet fully confirmed, that Austro-German authorities have decided to dissolve the Rada.

Boche Barbarians Run True to Form in Russian Village

MOSCOW, Thursday, April 18.—Because the peasants in the village of Novoselki in the government of Mohilev resisted an armed requisition for money by German troops and killed an officer, the Germans burned the village and turned machine guns on the inhabitants, including women and children, who tried to escape, killing many.

A protest against this atrocity has been communicated to the German government by M. Tchitcherine, Russian minister of foreign affairs, who also mentions that Germans killed an entire family, even little children, when informed that one member had participated in guerrilla warfare.

There will be no further toleration of able-bodied men hanging around the municipal woodyard day after day while they pretend to search for work, according to the mandate of Mayor John L. Davis, who today requested that Chief of Police Nedderman take a hand and force the "boaters" to give accounts of themselves.

Chief Nedderman today commenced an investigation which will result in a roundup of the transients and practical closing down of the woodyard for the summer months for lack of patronage.

Appeals for all sorts of unskilled labor coming in from the rural districts has caused the authorities to take action.

"It is preposterous," said the mayor, "that such conditions should be condoned by the city. It is costing money to keep up the woodyard despite the fact that the appropriation was cut down this year.

HOPE IS ONLY BASIS OF IDEA SHIP IS SAVED

NORFOLK, Va., April 18.—Mrs. Selma Worley, wife of the commander of the naval collier Cyclops, denied today that she had received any word from her husband and said that her statement of last night that the vessel probably would be heard from within twenty-four hours was an expression of her personal opinion.

Mrs. Worley said she was confident that the ship is adrift at sea with her engines disabled or short of coal.

Last evening Mrs. Worley took occasion to call at the office of a Norfolk paper to declare that the mystery surrounding the disappearance of the ship and its 232 passengers and crew would be cleared up within the next twenty-four hours.

Mrs. Worley visited the newspaper office also to request the suppression of an interview she had given about her husband's change of name and his birth in Germany.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The lost collier Cyclops was sailing into the void of unexplained mysteries today. No hint or suggestion of what fate the 11,000-ton navy ship met or where, when or how, had yet been forthcoming, although scores of naval craft still swept the Atlantic in vain search.

The possibility she had, by some mishap, accidental or planned, disappeared into one of the innumerable inlets or sounds about the islands of the Caribbean was being methodically investigated.

Meantime, navy department officials refused to discuss the remarks of Captain Worley's wife that the vessel "would turn up in a South American port."

FEAR FEVER EPIDEMIC.
SAN SALVADOR, April 18.—Rumors are being spread in the newspapers here that there are many cases of yellow fever at Retalhuleu, Guatemala.

PEEL OFF CALLUSES WITH THE FINGERS

"Hard skin" or callus spots on the sides or the bottom of the feet peel right off without pain or soreness, after you apply a little Frezzone, says a Cincinnati authority. This new drug loosens the dead callused skin so it peels off with the fingers.

A quarter ounce of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any pharmacy, but is sufficient to remove every corn or callus from one's feet. This is the only way to free the feet from corns and calluses.

After the corn or calluses are removed, the skin beneath is pink and healthy, and not sore, tender or even irritated.—Advertisement.

NOT THE ONLY ONE

There Are Other Oakland People Similarly Situated.

Can there be any stronger proof of merit offered than the evidence of Oakland residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question.

Mrs. M. E. Doherty, 3342 Elmwood Ave., Oakland, says: "Sometimes stooping too much while at my housework, it has affected my kidneys. I have then suffered with a sharp pain across the small of my back. Objects have seemed to float before me and my sight has blurred. I have usually felt all out of sorts when I have had an attack like that. Doan's Kidney Pills, however, have soon removed every sign of the complaint. # Grant Extends Vice Crusade Gathers Roadhouse Evidence

The places being raided by the officials of Contra Costa county.

The demand that a fifteen-mile dry zone be prescribed around Yerba Buena Island naval training camp is reiterated by Grant who also demands that prosecutions under the Red Light Abatement Act be commenced, and furnished sworn affidavits to be used as the basis for these.

Copies of his report on Contra Costa county roadhouses were also sent to District Attorney T. D. Johnson of Contra Costa county and to Mayor W. L. Lane of Richmond.

The letter to Johnson follows: "I am enclosing herewith for your information an affidavit executed by myself showing flagrant violations of the Red Light Abatement law and other laws of the State of California in the western portion of Contra Costa county. This investigation follows a request made by citizens of the city of Richmond, and I am sending the affidavits to you at their suggestion with the particular request that you proceed immediately under the Red Light Abatement law against those places where specific evidence is given showing a violation of that law. In order that you may not be delayed in bringing prompt red light abatement action, I am enclosing herewith separate affidavits to file with the red light abatement complaint.

"All evidence substantiating charges in this affidavit is at your disposal."

—DOWD E. GRANT.

INVESTIGATOR GIVEN CARD TO ROADHOUSE

The affidavits referred to were sworn to yesterday afternoon by Grant before Louise Dearborn, San Francisco notary public, as follows: "That during the month of April, 1918, in order to ascertain whether there is any connection between the saloon business of Richmond and commercial vice, one of my investigators visited the S. P. saloon at McDonald Avenue, near the Southern Pacific depot, in the city of Richmond.

"That the saloon keeper and bartender in said saloon gave the investigator a card by which he could get into the Stag roadhouse on San Pablo Avenue, near the Alameda County line, and a card of introduction to Savigne, a waiter and bartender in the Grand Central roadhouse at Stege Junction on San Pablo Avenue.

"That the bartender then volunteered to take the investigator to the Grand Central roadhouse, and did so. That, accompanied by the investigator, the bartender visited the Grand Central roadhouse, and on entering the saloon saw a large crowd of men, many of whom were of the draft age.

"That while being sold over the counter by Savigne and at least two gambling devices were permitted to be operated in easy view of the street.

WOMEN ARE FOUND DANCING WITH MEN

"That after purchasing drinks from Savigne the investigator and he went through a hallway to a room in the back, where three women, named Annie, Louise and Blanche, were dancing with male guests and intoxicating liquors were being sold by Savigne.

"That Annie and Louise came over to the investigator's party and solicited the party to buy them beer, and that the investigator refused to do so.

"That neither Manuel or Savigne, or neither of the two women, requested the investigator's party to register, but stated that they had a book downstairs in which there were many signing names, and that Manuel, the boss, had considerable fun about the lawless way in which this register was kept.

"That said women told the investigator that many young girls under age were brought to this resort and the Grand Central roadhouse, which is only four blocks from the Stege grammar school.

"I am well acquainted with political conditions in the county of Contra Costa," continued Grant, "and know that many of these roadhouses have been a stench in the nostrils of the decent citizens in and around Richmond for many years, and that the Grand Central roadhouse is one of the most prominent corners on the one line between Alameda county and the city of Richmond, and that these women told the investigators that there was no danger of this particular roadhouse being raided by the officials of Contra Costa county. This resort is operating in flagrant violation of the red light abatement law as well as the nation's policy of conserving the morale of the American people on account of military necessity."

DECLARES HOUSE RUN IN VIOLATION OF LAW

"The said investigator before referred to also visited Stag's roadhouse on San Pablo Avenue and Sullivan's roadhouse at Stege Junction and was informed by the bartenders of both places that they had no women there at that time, but that the party could bring his woman with him.

"That he was accompanied by the investigator, Grant visited a house at 119 Contra Costa street, in Richmond, and obtained evidence that this house was being run in flagrant violation of the red light abatement law and other laws of the state of California.

"That Tony, a taxicab driver, whose stand is in front of the Bank saloon in Richmond, told the investigator about the house at 119 Contra Costa street and took him to his taxi, charging the investigator $1, in violation of the state white slave law.

"That Grant had information that a bartender in the Fort Fragg saloon directed the avoidance of a search of a saloon at Fifth and McDonald Avenue, and that this taxi driver took the investigator to a house in Oakland for $100, modified the proposed Richmond saloons are now very careful about soliciting for houses of ill fame, stating that they fear being caught in a trap like the 15 saloons on Broadway."

"That the Law Enforcement League has information of many other violations of law in and around the city of Richmond, and that the city of Richmond is within a ten-cent fare of the city of Oakland, and is within a 15-mile radius requested of the Secretary of the Navy as a dry zone around Yerba Buena Island, and Grant is prepared to produce a preponderance of evidence showing every material allegation set forth in this affidavit."

ENTERTAINERS WOULD MODIFY ORDINANCE

Women entertainers employed in Oakland cafes are making an effort to have modified the proposed ordinance that will deprive them of their present employment. They have organized a committee, consisting of Mrs. L. Walker, Mrs. Evelyn Newman and Miss G. McCarthy, and Commissioner Jackson, father of the proposed ordinance, has been asked to devise some plan that will remedy the conditions objected to in the conduct of the cafes and still permit the women entertainers to continue with their present method of making a livelihood.

Commissioner Jackson was non-committal, according to the members of the committee, but he expressed sympathy for the women who will be out of employment and who say that they cannot find other work that will enable them to earn as much as they can at the cafes.

The committee has issued the following statement: "One hundred singers and musicians in cafes in the city of Oakland are with Mr. Grant and the Welfare League now in a struggle for clean and moral city, but they want to know what right have these people to come in and rob them of their positions. Mr. Grant claims he visited all cafes and restaurants along or near the waterfront. During the course of investigation can he produce absolute proof that any entertainer or musician at any time did not conduct herself as a lady?"

"These girls have dependents—aged, widowed mothers and children; not only one, but sometimes two and three. One woman whose husband is in France fighting for our country's honor is now supporting her family besides helping her mother. With her salary and the money she gets from Uncle Sam she is able to give her children a musical education and to live a comfortable and clean and moral life, but they want to know what right have these people to come in and rob them of their positions. Mr. Grant claims he visited all cafes and restaurants along or near the waterfront. During the course of investigation can he produce absolute proof that any entertainer or musician at any time did not conduct herself as a lady?"

"The ordinance certainly will not permit women violin players or singers to go among the tables. But if a woman is playing the piano, violin or other instrument, and is properly conducted, and does not go among the tables, but remains with the orchestra, I shall consider her in the same class with the regular musicians, and I shall not entertain the idea of drawing the line between the entertainers who are objectionable and the legitimate musicians who are there to provide good music, and for no other purpose."

"I realize that the ordinance is exceedingly drastic," said Nedderman. "But it will not be interpreted so as to work hardship for those who are legitimate musicians."

"The ordinance certainly will not permit women violin players or singers to go among the tables. But if a woman is playing the piano, violin or other instrument, and is properly conducted, and does not go among the tables, but remains with the orchestra, I shall consider her in the same class with the regular musicians, and I shall not entertain the idea of drawing the line between the entertainers who are objectionable and the legitimate musicians who are there to provide good music, and for no other purpose."

GOVERNMENT WILL CONDUCT S. F. FIGHT

"The fight against vice in San Francisco is to be taken over by the United States government. It was stated today following a conference between United States Attorney J. E. Colston and Lieutenant of Police Charles Goff, head of the moral squad. Goff is to be assigned with his men to the military intelligence bureau, and will work directly under its supervision.

"The authorities propose concentrating on the protection of the United States against the construction from disease as the first part of the program. Women offenders taken in raids will be placed under $10,000 bail and held for physical examination. All women of the underworld will be kept under this surveillance if the plans of the authorities are carried out effectively.

Oakland authorities have been co-operating with the Federal agents in holding women arrested for physical examination and in quarantining them at the Alameda county infirmary. It is alleged that the prime reason for the Federal authorities and Federal agents taking over control of the situation in San Francisco is that the San Francisco police courts have permitted hundreds of women who should have been detained for examination to be turned loose immediately after their arrest.

The examinations will be made by a corps of competent physicians designated by the army and navy authorities.

Track Extension Will Be Decided

Whether the proposed single track street car line connecting the Eighth street line to the vicinity of the Moore shipyard will be constructed over Adeline street is a matter that will be decided today by the directors of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway. The line, it is understood, will run to First street. It is said that the Chestnut street car line and the survey has already been made.

Protest was made by the property owners along Adeline street between First and Eighth over the paving of the thoroughfare. They are willing to have the work done, if the railway track is laid thereon, but not otherwise, owing to the present high cost of the work and the low valuation of the property. The hearing of the protest was postponed until June 10 to await developments in the street car line construction.

WITNESS IS MISSING

While the police are endeavoring to locate a witness, complaining witnesses against Wong Tsoo, a Chinese accused of selling opium, the case, which was to be heard before Police Judge Samuels today, was continued until May 7. The witness is said by the police to have disappeared.

CLAIMS HINDUS WERE SOLD BY THEIR LEADERS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—The Hindu element of the Ghadr revolutionary party was sold out to the Germans by their leaders just as the Russians were sold out by Trotsky, Lenin and other leaders of the Bolshevik movement, according to the theory and argument of a speaker today by Attorney Timothy Healy, representing the Bagwan Singh group of Hindus, on trial before Judge Van Fleet for conspiracy to incite a revolution by armed force against British rule in India.

The Ghadr party is charged by the government with being the source of the alleged conspiracy which U. S. Attorney John W. Preston further charges was planned and directed by the German foreign office through the German consulate attaches here.

Attorney Healy held particular stress upon the case of Bagwan Singh, who is a prominent Hindu poet and lecturer.

"He left San Francisco in 1914 shortly before the outbreak of the war and went to India to sing into the hearts of his countrymen the story of America's freedom and greatness. If my clients are convicted a serious situation confronts them as they will be deported and perhaps executed by the British India authorities unless this merciful jury intervenes."

At this point he attacked the various Hindus who had testified for the government, and was warned by Judge Van Fleet to keep his arguments within the bounds of the facts.

"The Hindus who came here from India testified as a part of the contact by which their lives were to be saved," Healy continued, "and had they not in many persons they have had a revolution been lined up against the war and shot, and these men who saved their worthless lives by coming here, must have little to live for now that they have before them the awful stream of the many persons they have helped to save death by their testimony in the Punjab."

Attorneys for the various defendants continued their arguments for clients involved, and it is expected that Attorney Theodore Roche representing the German consulate defendants will begin his argument late this afternoon.

News of Death of Captain Received

News of the death of Captain Charles A. Fry, commander of the garrison protecting the port of Calais, has been received by Mrs. John H. Fernie, to whom the brilliant young officer was related through his marriage to her niece, Mrs. Elsie Morse, who formerly made her home about the bay.

The death of the British officer occurred on the 2d, during a fierce air raid, after he had been repeatedly urged to seek shelter from the rain of bombs.

"Not while my men are out in the open," was his reply, when a bomb burst beside him that took his life.

The death of Captain Fry is greatly deplored because of his familiarity with conditions in the port of embarkation, one of the most important British bases on French soil.

Mrs. Fry is at her home in Laughton, Essex, with her two children, where she, too, has been visited by the aerial pirates, the roof of her home having been ripped off during the raid that took her husband's life.

Mrs. Fry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Morse, former residents of San Francisco, are now in New York. It was to them the cable was sent announcing the death of the gallant young officer.

Fighting Attends Breaking Up of Laborer's Meeting

LONDON, April 18.—Rioting attended the breaking up of an anti-draft meeting in Belfast yesterday, according to a despatch to the Daily News. Revolvers were used by the police, who were pelted with paving stones. Fifteen thousand persons participated in the meeting which was called by the labor party.

S. P. LAWYERS PREPARE REPLY IN BRIBE CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Attorneys for the Southern Pacific Company are preparing to answer charges of bribery brought against the corporation by J. Crawford Briggs, special assistant attorney general of California, who during the argument of the billion-dollar oil litigation, involving 250 square miles of the richest oil land in the state, alleged that George A. Stone, veteran examiner, was a life pensioner of the railroad.

Briggs charged during the course of the argument before Federal Judge Benjamin F. Siedes that Stone had been granted a life pension by the company, contrary to its rules, to prevent exposure of the conduct of the affairs of the railroad during the time he acted as land examiner. The corporation was charged with the obligation of determining by examining whether lands obtained from the government were mineral bearing or non-mineral in quality. Instead, they concealed the fact that oil was on the land, Briggs charges, and gave only the most superficial examination. Lack of information on the part of the government regarding the character of the lands which they sold to the railroad was taken advantage of by the company's land buyers, according to Briggs. The attorney argued to the court that no statute of limitations could shut out federal action under the bribery charge under the present status of the case.

Railroad attorneys will answer Briggs' charges Friday morning.

WIDOW SUES.
As the result of the death of her husband, Tullio, following his injury in a street car accident in April, 1917, Mrs. Camilla di Tullio has filed suit against the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways for $10,000 damages.

Get Tools--Get Ready to Get Busy Clean-Up and Paint-Up Time Near

"Clean up and paint up and thrift week" has become a recognized national institution. Started in the East, it has spread throughout the country, the date in each place varying with the climatic conditions that exist in that section. Originally an outgrowth of the old New England spring "house cleaning," it has extended to the garden and to the street as well. In order to accomplish the best results the plan has been adopted of having some recognized authority in each section set aside a specific week in which the property owners of that community are asked to clean up and paint up.

The board of supervisors of Alameda county have taken that action this year and on Monday last they designated the week beginning Sunday, the 21st, as "clean up, paint up and thrift week" for all of Alameda county. The supervisors officially advised residents asking that the people of this county start on the 21st and put their gardens, their sidewalks, their fences and their buildings and homes in repair.

TOUCH UP A BIT.
A touch here and there, a bit of paint added, a few nails driven, some weeds rooted up, a lawn cut or a patch of ground laid out into a thrifty war garden adds to the attractiveness and the healthfulness of the neighborhood. It means cheerfulness and cleanliness and a general appearance of thrift, that gives distinction to the entire community. It is the best advertisement that a city can have.

A little dab of paint and half an hour's work and many dollars' worth of improvement has been added to the neighborhood.

SWAT THE FLY.
Health authorities will cooperate with the individuals in every way. They want the abiding place of the disease-carrying house fly destroyed at this particular time and there is nothing that so discourages the propagation of this pest as a little fresh paint, some whitewash or kalsomine and a good cleaning of the back as well as the front yard.

The board of supervisors has officially asked that this year the week

JURY TO ENFORCE RULES FOR BAKERS

The new policing method to be followed by the bakers of Northern California in seeing that all members of the organization conform to the regulations laid down by the food administration went into effect today. The plan adopted provides for a jury of twelve from which six judges shall be chosen to pass upon infractions of the rules. The jury's recommendations will then be submitted to Food Administrator Ralph F. Merritt, who will decide upon the penalty.

Promises to bake a 100-percent wheatless loaf if necessary were made yesterday at a meeting of 500 bakers of Northern California at Native Sons' hall, San Francisco, after they had been addressed by Merritt and Frederick Athern, a four-minute speaker.

Merritt declared that it will be necessary to ship 25,000,000 bushels of wheat to the allies between now and next harvest, now five months away.

"Every pound saved will be sent to the allies," Merritt said. "The bakers are going to eliminate the use of wheat, and you bakers must learn to bake bread without wheat flour."

FERRY RATES MAY BE RAISED NEXT MONTH

Two questions of vital importance to residents of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda who are employed in San Francisco will be decided May 21, when they will be resumed in San Francisco the hearing to determine whether the Southern Pacific and the Key Route be given permission to increase transportation rates.

Among rate experts there is a belief that permission to make the increase will be forthcoming, but there also is a belief in the possibility that the commission will agree with the contention of Attorney B. M. Merz, Green, representing Berkeley and Alameda in the hearing, that the commission has no jurisdiction. It was this contention that caused adjournment yesterday until May 21.

BUTLERS INADEQUATE.
Belief that the rate increase plea may be granted arises from the fact that in his report of the physical and financial situation as it affects the transportation companies, H. G. Butler, assistant chief engineer of the commission, finds that the transportation companies are not receiving adequate returns on their investments.

While the report suggests three ways of adjusting the service conditions, only one of them, that of consolidation, is recommended by him as having much to commend them to the patrons of the lines. The others are a division of territory between the two companies or by the elimination of duplication in the lines.

MAY GRANT INCREASE.
In particular the indications of probability that the rate increase will be granted are derived by the rate experts from that part of Butler's report wherein he states that, although the consolidation is to be effected throughout 1918, would have effected an increase of $637,000, changing a net loss of $41,368.46 into a net profit of $595,700, the return to the consolidated property would have been only 2.7 per cent on the estimated reproduction value of the plants after the elimination of the Key Route mole and some of the duplicating lines.

Taking into this consideration this condition, the experts, basing their calculations on an investment profit of from 6 to 8 per cent, figure that the increase would mean a commutative rate of 14 or 14.50 per cent. Round-trip tickets at 25 cents and one-way fare of 15 cents.

PRINTING UNIONS WILL CELEBRATE

Members of the various unions connected with the allied printing trades industry throughout Alameda county are to affiliate with their San Francisco brethren in celebrating the thirty-first anniversary of the organization of the Union Printers' Mutual Aid Society at Native Sons' hall, in San Francisco, on Tuesday evening, May 14.

An interesting program of literary and musical events has been arranged, and the committee in charge promises many features of a surprising nature. Professional and amateur entertainers from both sides of the bay have promised to take part.

To give a patriotic trend to the occasion it is proposed to send special invitations to prominent military and naval officials to be seated in the front row. Mayor Davis is also to be asked to attend, as also are Mayor Ralph, Governor Stephens and other public officials.

The society, besides being composed of members of the local typographical union, also has in its membership many of the San Francisco printers and mailers. It has a treasury of close to $10,000, of which $5500 is invested in bonds. This amount $1500 is invested in bonds maturing in the present issue and $500 in a previous issue.

The Oakland committee of arrangements is composed of A. R. Chienoweth (chairman), A. A. Berry, J. C. Brown, E. L. Hamilton and J. F. Patterson.

Daughter of Attorney Montagne Is Dead

Miss Josephine Montagne, age 28, one of three daughters of Attorney A. A. Montagne, died at the home of the family at 5415 Thomas street at 2:30 this morning, after an illness of over a month with spinal meningitis. The funeral was from the home, at 4:30 this afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. L. Kloss of Plymouth Congregational church.

During the two weeks' trial of Malcolm Montagne in Judge Quinn's court, the Superior court, in which Attorney Montagne represented the defendant, the daughter's illness was severe, and the home was under quarantine, the father being unable to see his daughter. For a number of the days of the trial the daughter was unconscious.

WHITE SLAYER SENTENCED.
Manuel Silva, convicted on a charge of white slavery, was given a sentence of from one to three years by Judge J. T. Trahern, sitting in the department of Judge Joseph S. Koford. A motion for a new trial was denied and an appeal taken.

BRITISH SAY HUN NAVY WON'T FIGHT

LONDON, April 18.—The British naval success against German mine sweepers in the Cattegat recently, says the Daily Telegraph, is sufficient answer to the Germans who say that the British grand fleet is in hiding.

Contrasting the British fleet in the Cattegat with the German raids in the Straits of Dover, the Daily Telegraph points out that while the Germans in their bases on the Belgian coast are only twenty miles from the straits, the exploit in the Cattegat was a carefully planned operation, conducted more than 500 miles from the nearest point on the British coast. "Such a sweep," it adds, "can be made only by a power in total control of the sea confronted by an enemy who will

He had whistled it, had heard it sung by his sweetheart, played by regimental bands and on not risk protecting his small craft, suspecting that such intervention might be the prelude to a general action which he desires to avoid.

everyone's lips. The song was a corker, he admitted, but its title was puzzling—such a funny name. Some spelled it Joan of Arc and others Jeanne d'Arc. But he hadn't seen it spelled these ways, or in another way, so he wrote to his sweetheart in Oakland from Camp Lewis for enlightenment on the subject.

"Who's this guy Jonah Vark that he's got for a name? The rest are singing about it," he asked. "My chum says he's some French, but his name sounds more like it had something to do with whales. I wish you could tell me who this Jonah feller is, as I don't want my mates to know I ain't wise to what he done to get himself sunk about."

Here's to "THE LADY WHO SELLS MILK"

Down at Dan Hanlon's shipyard the 800-odd employees call her "The Lady Who Sells Milk." She comes to the yard daily and the men find it necessary to quaffing deeply of this milk she sells them.

The other day at the noon hour the men were addressed by speakers making an appeal for the third Liberty loan. The hardy shipbuilders pledged themselves to take bonds, but some of them contented themselves with subscribing for the 50¢ and $1.00 denominations of its generosity.

"I'll take a bond for $500," she said, and to the solicitor she paid a substantial check.

Then there was a cheer and one of those spontaneous scenes that bring moisture to the eyes and make swallowing necessary but difficult. Men who had subscribed for $50 bonds went back and raised the amount of their subscription and men who had not subscribed at all flung their voices into the chorus that broke on the ears of those hurriedly making out receipts.

"The Lady Who Sells Milk" surely said something in that man's shipyard," said Ed Cramer, one of Hanlon's superintendents and it's something that is not going to stop; those lads are going to buy their heads off in this bond drive. We're close to $50,000 in the yard now and we are going strong."

Here's to "The Lady Who Sells Milk."

GOVERNMENT OFFERS EDUCATIONAL CHANCES.

The career of Archibald MacDonald, of Oakland, since leaving Oakland, shows the good opportunities offered by the United States to young men ambitious and energetic enough to take advantage of its generosity.

Young MacDonald took the examinations in San Francisco and passed so highly that the government sent him to Harvard University for six months, then he and one thousand other students were given such stringent examinations that only ten passed of which number he stood about the head of the list. These ten the government then gave a six months' course in Boston School of Technology and after examination, MacDonald was the only successful member. He was then made an ensign in the Hydrographic Naval Aviation Corps and was honored by being placed in charge.

He is at present in Washington writing for the government a volume entitled "Aerography" which is to be used both in the army and navy as a text book, and when it is finished he is to be sent to Oxford University for six months and then placed on active duty in France. This fine education is given at the expense of the United States government.

MacDonald, who belongs to a well known pioneer family of Oakland, was attending the University of California. He is a member of the Chi Phi Fraternity. His brother Russell, also a U. C. graduate, is in the Ordnance Department of the United States Army, and the other brother, Ambrose, has just passed his examinations for the naval academy at Annapolis.

WELL, ANYWAY, THE HUN FEARS HIM.

Braw, Highland laddies in their kilts, sporrans, spats and bare knees look as though they would soon be as commonplace on Oakland streets as they are in Glasgow, or on the North Inch of Perth, two of the places in the land country where the kilts are wont to foregather in strength. It has even been suggested that the bagpipers now here put in their spare time marching up and down the lawns in front of the aristocratic to the shrill of the pipes, just as their forefathers of the Scottish dukes and marquises. Just whether bagpipe music in place of an orchestra during the dinner hour would add savor to the soup and otherwise stimulate the appetite of the worldly Piedmontese is yet to be learned for none seems ready to risk the experiment.

Be that as it may, the "kilts" are less of a novelty in Oakland than before the war, though they are "new" enough to attract as much attention as a company of dough boys.

When a highlander swings along Broadway, a fond mother will point him out to her offspring as "a Scotchman," as though there weren't hundreds of other less ostentatious "Scotchies" around.

Private Robert Collinge, of a Canadian Highland regiment, during a visit here, came in for his share of public attention.

One young hopeful, after staring wide-eyed at Collinge's kilt, inquired: "Mamma, who is that big man with the short skirt and bare knees, just like a little girl?"

"The German says he and his kind are ladies sent against them by Satan," replied the mother.

CARRY FLAGS.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Flags of Illinois, tattered by time and the shells of the civil war, were borne through the streets of Chicago today by the hands that carried them in 1860, on commemoration of the centennial anniversary of Illinois and her admission into the Union as a state.

DELMAS PLEADS MAUVAIS CASE

SAN JOSE, April 18.—A crowded court room greeted Judge P. F. Gosby, in the Superior Court yesterday, when Delmas M. Delmas, addressed the jury in the closing argument of the Mauvais trial.

Delmas painted a word picture of the late Mrs. Clemence Mauvais, and then of her daughter, Mrs. Juliet Ferguson, first as pictured by the contestants of the Mauvais case, and then as he termed "the beautiful truth." He entered a dramatic plea for an instructed verdict in support of the will by the court, wherein $35,000 is in question.

For several hours before the Delmas argument began, first street in front of the court house, was thronged with people awaiting to gain entrance. In the crowd were several local attorneys and officials. Delmas started in at once with an attack on the allegations in the complaint.

"Facts, substantial facts, not conclusions and inferences, must be the basis of a successful contest, and the allegations in this case amount to nothing and are only made significant by the learned 'doctor' this late remark referring to attorney James P. Sax, appearing for the contestants, Romeo and Earnest Mauvais and Mrs. Edith Tevis. 'He has portrayed to you a picture of Mrs. Mauvais and her daughter and there is not a lineament of that portrait that agrees with the proof. Mrs. Mauvais has been shown as a woman enfeebled by sickness and under the influence of her daughter, Juliet, and prejudiced against her other children, when in fact she was a woman of undoubted intelligence, a woman, a tender-hearted, loving mother, a friendly neighbor and a worthy citizen.'"

Then Delmas so played upon the emotions of the audience that tears were brought to the eyes of many of the women present, he told of the part that Mrs. Ferguson had taken, which even showed itself in the feelings of Mrs. Ferguson, herself. He further said, "I want you to picture with me this woman who is branded as a woman of undoubted intelligence, a woman, a tender-hearted, loving mother, a friendly neighbor and a worthy citizen."

Then Delmas so played upon the emotions of the audience that tears were brought to the eyes of many of the women present, he told of the part that Mrs. Ferguson had taken, which even showed itself in the feelings of Mrs. Ferguson, herself. He further said, "I want you to picture with me this woman who is branded as a woman of undoubted intelligence, a woman, a tender-hearted, loving mother, a friendly neighbor and a worthy citizen."

This statement was followed by a pause that left the crowd in hushed stillness, save for the sobs of Mrs. Ferguson. A moment later the quick wit of Delmas brought a laugh in the court room. In speaking of Mrs. Ferguson, Delmas used the name of the sister, Edith, and asked pardon of the court, to which Judge Gosby replied: "We are all in the habit of making such errors, Mr. Delmas." At this Delmas replied: "Yes, but speaking so much of Romeo, I certainly should not forget Juliet."

Two Pigs on Every Farm, Requested

"Two pigs on every farm" is the slogan of the Alameda County Farm Bureau, adopted to aid in increasing the supply of pork, according to a message to the farmers issued by Farm Advisor Marcus A. Lee today.

The farm bureau member in Alameda county keeps a brood sow and raises a litter, the number of pigs would be increased by several thousand, which would be no mean addition to the pork production," Lee declared in his bulletin, which follows.

"The Farm Bureau has committed itself to a campaign for two pigs on every farm in Alameda county. The number of pigs in the county is decreasing, in face of a greatly increased demand for pork products, and in order to meet the shortage which will inevitably arise, the program of keeping a brood sow or two pigs on every farm has been proposed.

"This project is in the nature of a statewide campaign, which is being taken up in every farm bureau county of California. Already thirty-six counties have expressed their willingness to back the movement, the slogan being 'A pig on every farm.'"

"The plan proposes that every farm bureau member in the county be interviewed regarding the campaign, and urged to join the ranks of those who are following the program. Alameda county can produce much more pork than at present, and a project of this kind should take well.

"Committees have been appointed in each farm bureau center and have been furnished with the names of the members of the farm bureau, and it will be the duty of these committees to interview each member, and report to the farm advisor, who will see that the pigs are furnished. The reports from these committees will be made within a week after the campaign is launched so that the work will proceed quickly."

Postman Is a Good War Stamp Salesman

C. F. Lewis, the veteran Oakland mail carrier who delivers The TRIBUNE office mail, is an earnest worker for Uncle Sam in more than one. Between deliveries Lewis makes the rounds of the offices and business places on his route selling War Savings Stamps.

This morning Lewis passed through the Seattle Book restaurant, with eye for stamp buyers. At a table near the entrance was seated Chief White Elk partaking of his morning coffee before starting another strenuous day in the interest of the Liberty Loan campaign. Lewis, knowing the work the chief is doing, was about to pass along to the next table. "Wait a minute," said Chief White Elk, "here is a dollar. Put your stamps in Thrift and give it to the first boy you meet."

"I have about 150 cards myself," added the chief, "and I am going to start some one else on the right road."

Lewis thanked the chief and as he crossed the street toward The TRIBUNE office, Thrift card in hand, encountered Jimmie Jones, one of The TRIBUNE's energetic young salesmen. "Here's a present for you from the best American in the United States," said Lewis to the surprised Jimmie.

Affidavits to Tell Alien Property Facts

After a conference of the superior judges of Alameda county yesterday afternoon, County Clerk George E. C. Jones was directed to inform all attorneys representing enemy aliens in guardianship and probate matters that affidavits must be filed setting out the facts and giving names of estates, clients, executors and administrators.

The conference was held after receipt from the alien property custodian, A. Mitchell Palmer, at Washington, of letters calling upon the judges to supply the custodian with the information.

He was locked up as requested and will be delivered to his long in San Francisco today.

West Somerville, Mass.—"I suffered from a severe attack of bronchitis, with a terrible cough, no appetite, no energy, no strength and loss of sleep. The usual remedies failed to help me, but they gave me Vinol and it restored my appetite, stopped the cough and built up my strength so I am able to do my housework again."

Alkali Makes Soap Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain, mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly, and never, and is so free from looking bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

Tells How to Make a Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy.

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs only 25 cents, and no extra to buy. Dissolve it in one ounce of water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use come in each box.

Gets Stomach Pump Despite Retractions

Mrs. Mary Zanetti of 10,435 Longfellow street last night told her husband on his return home that she had taken poison. Her attempt to escape resulted in capture after a chase across fields by Patrolman W. A. Meyer and C. C. Peters who took her to the Metro station, where despite her retractions, she was forced to submit to the ordeal of the stomach pump. She was then removed to the emergency hospital for observation. Mrs. Zanetti explained that she and her husband Louis, were to have separated.

NATURE DANCE AND DEAS ARE STARTLING

Enid Bennet Keeps 'Em Busy Chuckling in 'Naughty, Naughty' at Kinema

THOMAS HINCE presents ENID BENNETT in 'Naughty, Naughty!'

What would it be if New York said she saw what Podkory thought of her and her scandalous manners and methods, and what would she say if she saw the Enid Bennet bamboozled the whole thing into coming into line and adopting the very latest styles, dances and socials, and right in the church parlors at that—that is just what happens in 'Naughty, Naughty' at the Kinema today and until Saturday.

It's clever comedy and a splendid take-off on the small town just coming into big town ideas and Enid Bennet is most attractive in the role of reformer who uses mighty risk and daring methods of teaching these poor innocent inhabitants.

The program also includes a Keystone Comedy, an official 17.5 and a film the latest News Weekly and a Burton Holmes Travelogue. Sunday the Kinema starts a week showing of that smashing indictment of that greatest villain known to history—'The Kaiser,' that beast of Berlin—Advertisement.

FARM WORK WILL BE DEMONSTRATED

To show how to increase production either by improving methods or by minimizing losses of various kinds is the sole aim of the interested set of demonstrations planned for the University Farm picnic Saturday.

From 10 a. m. until noon the Department of Agricultural Engineering has arranged a series of four numbers, each of which will be performed four times at 10-15 minute intervals. H. L. Belton will explain the construction of good, hoop, tile and concrete silos. R. C. Ingram will show how to repair farm machinery. J. T. Fisher will demonstrate the adjustment and repair of gas engines and Prof. J. R. Davidson will illustrate the proper lubrication of tractors.

How to reduce losses due to disease will be given by the Division of Veterinary Science. Dr. F. M. Hayes will perform hog cholera vaccination and Dr. J. R. Beach will explain vaccination for chickenpox.

The Division of Pomology will conduct a series of tests with various spray nozzles and will show different methods of grafting fruit trees and also the preparation of homemade lime sulphur spray.

The manufacture of ice cream, butter and cheese and the pasteurization and bottling of market milk can be witnessed at the University Farm cannery.

Other instructive demonstrations will be carried on by the divisions of poultry husbandry, irrigation, animal husbandry, viticulture and entomology. The barns, buildings and equipment of the farm will be open for the inspection of the visitors, and instructors will have office hours for the purpose of meeting any of the guests and answering questions.

Demonstrations have, however, only a part of the day's program and a long list of athletic events, contests and entertainment features has been scheduled. There will be a dance in the evening.

Dean Van Norman and Mrs. Van Norman have set aside the hour from 3 to 4 on picnic day, when they will be at home at the dean's cottage to greet friends.

ENTERTAINERS OF NOTE JOIN CAMP LEWIS

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash., April 18.—Camp Lewis can now provide itself with all the entertainment needed. The recent arrivals include entertainers known up and down the coast.

"Chicken Soup Joe" Peak won a place in the hearts of his comrades at once, for he is a comedian. "Chicken" hails from Montana. E. J. Wright, chief of police of Phillipsburg, Montana, came along to uphold the dignity of the Montana contingent.

Montana has furnished another new entertainer in the person of Earl McPherson, of Butte. He is a heavyweight—he weighs 105 pounds net. In private life Mac is a banker.

The movies also have contributed. Wallace Reid, one of the best known movie stars in the country, is wearing olive drab.

"This is the life," said Reid. "These they say bath charms, but Max Fisher of Los Angeles isn't doing any charming with his violin. Max, who is one of California's best performers, is using it to kindle the fighting spirit, rather.

Melodrama Will Be Staged at Auditorium

The drama was dramatized by Father F. R. Holweck from the novel of the same title written by Father H. J. Spillman. The leading character role will be played by Mrs. Joseph A. Reichling. Among the others who will take part are Miss Ottilia M. Reichling, Miss Emma F. Hale, Albert J. Miller and Joseph F. Kenny. The play is being directed by Father John Reamus, chaplain of the society.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

(Modes of Today)

A smooth hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will be vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL

Why is it that in one of the healthiest cities of the U. S. there is a drug store with one of the largest (said to be the second largest) prescription businesses in all the country?

That city is Oakland and the store is Bowman's.

Is it because of a great local demand for prescriptions? This isn't so because the prescriptions used per capita in Oakland is very low.

Is it because we give special advertising emphasis to our prescription department? No, because this department gets less newspaper publicity than almost any other part of our business.

Is it because Physicians for ulterior reasons, send their patients to Bowman's? Absolutely and positively, no. No reputable physician in Oakland would stoop to such influence.

The reason for this splendid, ever increasing patronage is first, because the people know that they're safe and get the best of all grades of drugs, and second because they know that the graduate pharmacist specializing in the department of our business are to be absolutely relied upon. This has been the case for more than forty years. No wonder all the people are so sure of Bowman's.

ARE YOU A KNITTER?

Silk Knitting Bags? Silk the staples that some of our dear patriotic neighbors have made for themselves, but snappy silk bags ready for shopping or general utility use.

These bags are made with regular spacing and are exceedingly modish—$3.50 up.

Will it cut hot butter? If you need a new one come in and see our new ones. We have 'em from 50c up.

Just a bit of warning! Don't go somewhere else and pay $2.00 for a $1.25 knife. Our $1.25 knives are $1.25 knives and our $2.00 knives are $2.00 knives, not $1.25 knives marked $2.00 "on account of the war."

We Have the Bath Caps—You Get the Rest.

Well, here we are again! Bath Caps!

Last year was a big year for bath caps and two years ago was pretty big, too, but this year will be the biggest bath cap year of all.

And we have prepared for it!

All kinds, all shapes, all prices, all sizes and all new 1918 models.

You ought to see them. Some of them are very, very beautiful.

BOWMAN'S SPLENDID STOCK OF FINE BRUSHES

You'll Be Proud of Them, Too.

With the Russian bristle market practically cut off, with French and English industries given over to war purposes, it would seem impossible for a merchant to secure much of a stock of high-grade imported hair brushes.

And yet, in spite of these handicaps, we actually have today one of the finest assortments of good reliable medium-priced hair brushes we have ever shown.

Many of these brushes are imported, too.

How do we happen to have them?

Because we have the right kind of friends in the wholesale markets of the East—importers, jobbers and manufacturers who serve Bowman's are more than mere business institutions to us, they are friends of ours—friends whose friendship, in some cases, extend over a period of 20, 30 or 40 years—business friends, the staunchest kind of friends.

In times such as these such friendships count most and Bowman's is never overlooked when something hard to get is gettable.

That's why we have plenty of fine brushes and many other things that other stores are almost sure that's why our prescription department, for example, has drugs that some people think are unobtainable.

50c Imported Tooth Brushes

The famous Lister Brush that sold for 35c before the war. The same old quality that has made them one of the best brushes in the world—imported from France. In our opinion the best 35c Brush in America before the war and the best 50c Brush now. Save 13c on every one that you buy tomorrow or Saturday. Dentists say the Lister Brush is dentally correct.

TROUBLED WITH POISON OAK?

Here's Something That Will Help You.

This is also the time to look out for Poison Oak. Unfortunately, a lot of us look out for it after we get it instead of before.

However, you can be fortified against it, to a considerable degree, if you use Taylor's Poison Oak Lotion before going where it grows.

On the other hand, you can greatly relieve the agony and itching of poison oak by using the same lotion after being afflicted.

There is no infallible cure for this disagreeable misadventure, but Taylor's lotion has been the favorite among our patrons for many many years. It also comes in the form of a salve if preferred.

IMPORTED FACE POWDER 50c

Direct From France.

Preceda Face Powder is one of the most interesting imported articles we have in the store for the reason that in spite of the war we still continue to sell it at the pre-war price of 50c.

It comes from France and is one of the most popular articles we ever sold. Preceda powder has hundreds and hundreds of users who buy box after box and are always pleased.

Many of our very best customers, able to afford complexion powders costing three times the price of Preceda, take Preceda in preference.

Great quantities of this wonderful powder are imported from France right along in spite of the war. It is light compact and easily handled, which is the probable reason of our good fortune in relieving our supply so regularly.

HERE'S A FINE TALCUM

Do you use mace Talcum?

If you don't, you should, because it's good for the skin.

Right now the most popular talcum at our store is Vergo Violet. This is a 35c talcum in a good-sized can that is of wonderful quality.

BETTER PUT UP THOSE EGGS

If you have neglected to put up some eggs this spring (though to a reliable egg man for a too late, to do so), follow the directions upon the bottle and you'll make a success of it. It's as simple as A-B-C.

IT'S ALL I Am NOT Pro-German!

I salute the flag of the United States and NO OTHER.

I stand ready to sacrifice my business or anything else I possess to help the United States win this war.

The newspapers have during the past twenty-four hours carried lengthy articles saying "Theodore Gier is Pro-German." It's a damnable LIE—and I protest.

I am opposed to Kaiserism.

I feel that if the Kaiser should triumph, civilization itself would be in danger.

I am an American—100% American.

I have lived in Oakland 35 years.

I have been a citizen of the United States 31 years.

I have obeyed the law. I have given my money, my time and the best that was in me to improve conditions both in Oakland and in other parts of the State when any one asked or suggested that there was a way I could help.

I was instrumental in bringing Battery B to Oakland (now in training at Camp Kearny). When the State had no funds in 1911 that could be used to pay rent for the Armory on Webster street I personally furnished the money to keep a battery of Oakland soldiers together. That was long before the world war had started. One of the four field guns now being used by Battery B was christened and is named "Col. Theo. Gier."

I contributed money to these boys while they were on the Mexican border for their mess fund.

I gave money to help out their families who were left without the necessities of life.

I have given liberally to the American Red Cross and other patriotic organizations.

I have bought Liberty bonds of the First, Second and Third issues.

I take this method of declaring to the world that I am an American citizen, and any one who says I am not loyal is telling a malicious lie.

My reason for not kissing the flag at the meeting of the supervisors was because of the humiliating and insulting manner in which it was offered to me.

Loyalty is best shown by offering everything you have in the world to help win the war. That is what I have done; and I will leave it to the general public whether I am a loyal American or not.

TRIBUNE FILM BEING SHOWN IN BERKELEY

Residents of Berkeley will have an opportunity to see how a great newspaper is made, beginning tonight, for the film that shows all the various processes of getting out The TRIBUNE was put on at the Berkeley T. & D. today and will run the rest of the week and including Sunday night.

The film was the topic of study last night at the Durant school, when the wonderful newspaper film taken in the new TRIBUNE plant and showing, in every detail, from the writing of the copy to the paper coming off the press, the various steps in turning out a finished daily, was shown. This film, the masterpiece of O. J. L. Byers, famous maker of educational films, was shown at the school by special request as an educational feature, taking the place of the regular school lecture.

Never before has a motion picture photographer been able to photograph in detail the various steps of making a newspaper. Heretofore the intricate machinery of a newspaper plant has always been poorly lighted, and photography impossible. The splendid natural lighting of the new TRIBUNE building, however, made it possible for the camera to catch every detail of the work. The reporters and editors are shown at work; the linotype and the composing room are shown, with "close up" making every detail of the work clear; the stereotypers are shown making the plates for the press, and the press is seen in detail. Every move in the manufacture of the paper is made clear by "close up" photography.

Berkeley Branch Office of The TRIBUNE is now located at 2911 Shattuck avenue.

Persons who are inclined to be censorious with regard to Oakland business houses' display of Liberty Bond signs are advised that a walk over to the Western Pacific offices, 1326 Broadway. The photographer shows in this picture the sign that flings its appeal to buy bonds and convinces the buyer that his money is going to be used in a good cause. On the left of the sign stands A. H. Moffitt, city ticket agent, and on the right Walter B. Townsend, general agent of the company.

PLEASANTON WILL MAKE BOND RECORD

Pleasanton has determined to "go over the top" with the Liberty Loan quota in 48 hours. The Pleasanton quota today is 73 per cent subscribed, and it is proposed to make the full amount before the end of the week.

This was determined upon at one of the most enthusiastic Liberty loan meetings that has been held in the county, in Pleasanton last night. The Nevis pavilion was filled. Everybody in the township seemed to be there. The children of the Pleasanton school were out in force and took charge of the musical program, singing all of the late war songs and being recalled to the stage time after time. There was no room for the slacker. Men, women and children enlisted in the work, and none held back. Today the big drive is on, and Pleasanton township is being canvassed from end to end to the other to complete the allotment.

The meeting last night was called under the authority of the general Alameda county committee, but the arrangements were in the hands of a local committee composed of C. L. Crellin, J. E. Baites, J. H. Arendt, Charles A. Gale, Claude Smallwood and E. L. Benedict, and to them is due the credit for the success of the affair.

Superior Judge W. H. Donahue, formerly of Pleasanton, came back to the town he loves so well to preside at the gathering, and District Attorney Ezra Devoto and L. E. Church made the addresses of the evening.

Pleasanton is out on the battle line today, with every prospect of carrying out its promise to complete its quota during the week.

Paulsen Fined $750 on Contraband Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Captain A. R. Paulsen of the steamer Alliance, fined $750 here today by District Judge M. I. Cooling on a charge of shipping 10,000 rounds of ammunition and a number of revolvers to Mexican ports in violation of the President's proclamation which declared an embargo on armed shipments to Mexico.

Captain Paulsen pleaded guilty yesterday. He said today that he took the shipment to Mexican consulates where he was to shoot sharks and that he was to obtain a share in the sale of the fins of all sharks killed.

GUARDSMEN ARE COMMEDED FOR BRAVERY AT SEA

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Five armed guardsmen standing extra watch for several days in a drifting lifeboat from the submarine steamer Acteon, were commended today for bravery by Secretary of the Navy Daniels. The Acteon was sunk November 24. For several days thereafter the survivors drifted while part of them were ill.

The five commended stuck to the ship to the last, then cared for the men in the lifeboat as well as they could, standing extra watch during the drifting. They were:

John A. Carroll, Washington, D. C.
Osmond F. Erskine, Bath, Me.
William J. Hennessey, Cambridge, Massachusetts.
Henry E. Earl, Hopedale, Mass.
Alfred P. Parslow, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

War Trophies Are Displayed in Windows

War trophies left on the field by the Germans after battles on the western front are on display in the windows of the A. Schlueter Company on Washington street this week. They were collected on the scene of the struggles by Lieutenant J. S. Smith, formerly of the Royal Scots Brigade. Smith returned to his home here several months ago to recover from shrapnel wounds. After his recovery he enlisted with the United States army and is again in France. His mother, who lives in this city, has placed the collection of trophies in the Schlueter window. Included in the display are German rifles, pistols, gas masks, trench shovels, bayonets, respirators, and the latest model of German guns.

Along with the war relics is displayed the Schlueter service flag, containing one gold star in honor of Charles Schlueter, who went down when the Germans torpedoed the United States ship Arcturion.

JAILED AS THIEF AND DESERTER

Apprehended here last night, following a joy ride with two young girls and a boy companion to Phoenix, Arizona, and back, George Rust, alleged deserter from Camp Lewis, was turned over to the Berkeley police and is in custody pending investigation of alleged thefts of automobiles in different counties. His companion, Cyril Butler, is being held in San Francisco implicated in the same allegation. The two girls were taken into custody in a San Francisco cafe today. They are still in their teens.

Rust was arrested in San Francisco on a similar charge but released later when no complaint was filed against him. He will probably be turned over immediately to the military authorities at the Presidio as an alleged army deserter, according to Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley.

According to the police the young men and girls left here March 1, going south via Sacramento and Los Angeles. Rust is alleged to have sold several cars on the way. After the sale Rust was turned over to the police.

I. W. W. Given Wide Defense Latitude

CHICAGO, April 18.—The defense of I. W. W. on trial in Judge K. M. Landis' court charged with violation of the espionage act began today with questioning of the twelve tentatively accepted jurors.

Attorney George Vandever, for the I. W. W., precipitated a long argument when he asked the prospective jurors what they would think of conditions if they were shown that two per cent of the people of the United States control most of the wealth? Assistant Attorney-General Frank Nebeker, who is aiding the government, contended that Vandever had no right to ask such questions, as they were based on evidence that could not be introduced here. Judge Landis did not give a decision, but indicated that the defense would be given the widest latitude in the presenting of evidence.

The defense was sworn in as a member of the Senate as successor of the late Senator Hastings, Democrat.

Sidelights Given on Camp Life Good Work Is Done For Troops

Interesting sidelights on the work of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Knights of Columbus with the soldiers at the training camps is contained in a letter just received by the War Camp Community Service Commission, affiliated with the army and navy training camp activities, from a young aviator at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex. Joseph N. Burroughs is chairman of the commission and Alexander Stewart executive secretary. The letter follows:

"Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex. April 1, 1918.

"The Y. M. C. A. is doing a lot for the 'folks at home', in fact, more than they realize. Constant suggestions in the way of posters inviting the boys to write send many a letter that would have been otherwise unwritten. Then there is the underlying religious influence which is the only influence that can reach the men. Everywhere is the sign of the 'Y' and always something doing—boxing, wrestling, motion pictures, sermons, refreshments, music, paper—in fact, it is doing all it can for the boys, down to acting as a postoffice in some instances.

DOING GOOD WORK.
"On the other hand there is the K. of C., and no matter what we of a different faith think of it, it is doing for the Roman Catholic boy what the Y. M. C. A. does for us. Being democratic, they do not reach as many men. The 'Y' is everywhere, but there is only one K. of C. on the main road next to the main Y. M. C. A. It is not quite as quiet as the 'Y', as with pool games and piano and store all in the same room, there is considerable noise. With fewer buildings and men to supply the K. of C. puts up a building of a little better design as far as light and air are concerned, and they also furnish better paper and envelopes.

"You have no idea what this furnishing paper means to many of the men with only $3.00 a month left after insurance and allotments. This is only eighty-three cents for a month's spending money, and out of this must come shoes, polish, shoe brush, tooth paste, soap, towels, matches, tobacco, sweets, stamps, laundry and a movie or some other entertainment now and then; all lost and broken equipment is taken out of your pay; any 'time' in the guardhouse is on two-thirds pay; time spent in the hospital while undergoing treatment for diseases due to vice is without pay. The soldier certainly pays for his 'wild oats' not only physically, but in dollars and cents.

REAL PLUCK SHOWN.

"The subject of 'pay' brings to mind the denials many are making. On many a bunking man far from me is here as a private, although he will get a better rank soon, as he has been made an instructor. He is from Oakland, and before he left they sold their little home, and his wife went to Sacramento, where she is working in some family for $25 a month in order to save money to start over again when he comes back, or for herself and the baby girl he so proudly showed me the picture of, in case he does not come back; otherwise there could be nothing left out of his allotment of $15 plus another $5 from the government for herself and $5 for the child, in all only $35, besides her parents want her to contribute toward support $10 or $15 a month. The wife is only a girl about 19 and I believe was in one of my classes at Oakland High school. No one can help admiring the pluck both have shown and the fine spirit they have put into it."

MICHIGAN TO PUT LID ON ALL LIQUOR

DETROIT, April 18.—When Michigan goes dry at midnight on April 30 a total of 3285 saloons in the state must go out of business and 62 breweries are prohibited from manufacturing beer or any intoxicating liquor. At the election in November, 1916, the amendment providing for "bone dry" state prohibition was adopted by a majority of nearly 70,000.

Manufacturers and dealers of liquor in Michigan have had eighteen months to dispose of their stock and wind up their business affairs. Michigan breweries employed 2050 men, while saloons had a total of 6387 persons. For several weeks saloon men have been taking up other trades, but the movement of labor from the breweries has not been pronounced.

Some of the breweries will manufacture "soft" drinks and others, it is understood, will turn out distilled products not prohibited by law. A few beer plants will be converted into ice factories.

According to claims made by the Anti-Saloon League organization in Michigan approximately 2,338,000 bushels of grain have been used in the yearly output of Michigan breweries.

The internal revenue report for the year ended June 13, 1917, showed that 2,338,521 barrels of beer were brewed in Michigan that year. Each barrel contained 31 gallons and has been estimated that a bushel of grain is used to make a barrel of beer.

THE EXPORT LAW.

In enacting the Webb-Pomerene law Congress has made it legally possible for American manufacturers to form selling combinations in the interest of the export trade. Without the aid of this authority manufacturers were facing a situation of almost complete helplessness in meeting the acute competition of foreign trade interests inevitable after the war.

It is not possible, until observed in actual operation, to decide which form of cooperative selling will be the most effective. It may be conducted by groups of competitive concerns by means of common selling agencies or sales branches, by a corporation or a partnership, or by a simple contract or understanding. But whatever method is chosen, it can be operated under the Webb-Pomerene law, providing it does not affect trade within the United States and so long as it is not unfair to some outside American competitor who is also engaged in the export trade of the United States.

Briefly, the new law aims to preserve unchanged the Sherman antitrust law in so far as that law refers to domestic trade and business, but to permit manufacturers and exporters to combine to reduce selling cost and increase selling efficiency in foreign consuming markets. The law does not legalize, however, any illegitimate methods of foreign trade, or any methods that have not already been long in use among other trading nations. In fact, it seeks only to put the American manufacturer on a basis of equal advantage with the foreign manufacturer and exporter. With all proper safeguards against abuse the law seems to offer a degree of free action in foreign markets heretofore unknown to American trade.

Something was absolutely necessary to free American exports from the handicap of European buying syndicates and selling combinations if they were to prosper. Unified tactics have been pursued both by our Allies and our adversaries in the war in conducting their foreign trade. The differences in productive costs after the war will be so acute as to make it impossible to send some manufactures into the export trade. Some products, however, due to the use of machinery in manufacture, scientific factory methods and the abundance of raw material, will be laid down at ports of departure as cheaply as goods in foreign countries. But here the equality of costs would have ended.

Under the new export law manufacturers may operate a joint foreign selling organization and system which will enable them to compete on an equal cost basis also with foreign exports, except, of course, the advantage to foreign exporters accruing through the use of government subsidized freight ships, whereby a part of the cost of transportation to the foreign market is borne by the government. The Webb-Pomerene law is the thing for which the manufacturers have been pleading for several years. Now that they have it they are expected to make the most of it.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

When the annual State encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is held here from May 7th to 10th Oakland will be host at ceremonies of unusual interest. It having been fifty-three years since the last battle of the Civil War was fought, the veterans of that conflict are rapidly deserting this world for their eternal and unknown bivouac. In the month of March last 2800 survivors of the Civil War died.

The limitations of human life and the inexorable-ness of years assure us that this will be the last time the members of the G. A. R. will hold an encampment in this city. As the annual reunion is celebrated in a different one of a considerable circle of the larger cities of California each succeeding year, the veterans will have completed their final cycle before they again reach Oakland.

This circumstance calls to Oakland to be more generous than usual in dispensing hospitality and providing entertainment for the G. A. R. next month. There is another reason and a stronger one, however, for making the welcome of the Civil War veterans a distinctly popular and memorable event. These men who are to be the city's guests are survivors of the conflict which preserved whole, for all time, the American Republic. They are the men who struck from humanity the shackles of slavery on this continent, who created in the hearts of all mankind the unquenchable desire for freedom, and who put into the hearts of men everywhere the passion for republic, democracy, liberty of self-government.

It was these survivors of the 60's who fought the first stage of the battle for the preservation of this as a free nation; they demonstrated that the Republic could not be broken or destroyed by internal enemies and dispirited. The second and final stage of the battle is being fought today. It is to determine whether the republic may be successfully assailed by a foreign enemy; whether there is any feigning of efficiency or excess of frightfulness that can overcome the defensive force of this nation or frighten and overawe the people that comprise it.

This bond between the common purpose of 1861 and 1918 defies with some success the annihilative years. The sons and grandsons fighting today are the comrades in arms of the fathers who fought that other war in the epic of conflict necessary to establish the truth of the proposition that all men are created equal in their rights of liberty and self-determination.

It will be an inspiring moment for the men and women of Oakland to look upon the review of the soldiers of liberty of fifty years ago. It will remind them that the burden then taken up and defended cannot now be laid down; that no citizen of the present may be so craven as to yield an inch of what these venerable defenders achieved for future generations.

THE PRICE OF SILVER.

Coincident with the favorable committee report in the lower house of Congress on Senator Pittman's bill authorizing the Treasury Department to melt the silver dollars now held in the treasury vaults into bullion, so that it may be exported to settle American trade balances in the Orient, bar silver yesterday sold at over 95 cents an ounce, a decided improvement over the quotation of a few days ago. As it is pretty generally understood that, as a result of long negotiations between the silver producers and government officials, the Treasury Department will fix $1 an ounce as the government's buying price for silver, this upward tendency is easily comprehended.

Official Treasury statements show that there are now 491,000,000 silver dollars in the government vaults. Against this metallic reserve there is outstanding about $475,000,000 of silver certificates. The dollars held by the government contain about 375,000,000 ounces of fine silver. If all of them were transformed into bullion worth $1 an ounce the government would stand to lose $115,000,000 in the face value of its assets.

The Pittman bill proposes to retire the silver certificates secured by the silver dollars and issue in their place Federal Reserve Bank notes. This will necessitate an amendment to the federal reserve law, as the reserve bank is at present prohibited from issuing notes in smaller denominations than $5; or it will be incumbent upon the Treasury to retire only silver certificates of $5 denominations, leaving the $1 and $2 bills outstanding.

In proposing to fix $1 an ounce as the price of silver the government is meeting the request of England that a higher price not be permitted. Last year's production of silver in this country was about 75,000,000 ounces. Great Britain desired about 60,000,000 ounces of silver and the United States 40,000,000 ounces. Under the strong demand the price of silver jumped last September to $1.08½, the highest level reached since 1890. Then Great Britain proposed that the United States join with her in stabilizing the silver market. It was represented that the high safety point of the India rupee, the silver standard of trade exchange between India and other Asiatic countries and London trade and financial markets is about 94 cents. Deducting the cost of exchange and transportation 94-cent rupee silver is about on a par with United States silver at $1 an ounce.

Immediately negotiations between the two governments opened the price of silver receded to 85 cents an ounce, then rose to around 89 cents, where it remained until a few weeks ago. Miners can produce silver profitably at less than $1, but as it is necessary to do something to stimulate the production of the metal the Pittman proposal is justified as a war measure. On the other hand, without government regulation the price might be bid up to much more than $1, thus disturbing the financial markets of the Allied countries, which England and the United States have wisely decided should not be permitted at this time.

Bolo Pasha has been executed by the French military authorities as a traitor. His crimes were committed on a large scale: his guilt established beyond the possibility of doubt. Boloism, the special phase of Prussian propaganda which Bolo Pasha represented, is not exterminated, however. Those guilty of it number thousands. They are here and everywhere, agents of Deutschtum, whispering Teutonic superiority and Allied helplessness, participating in pro-German peace "drives," spreading calumny against this country and its Allies, promoting schemes to separate the entente nations. A few months ago they lauded former French Premier Caillaux and predicted he would be returned to power, when peace would be concluded. Caillaux is now in prison awaiting trial as a traitor. He probably will be stood up against the wall where Bolo Pasha received a volley from a firing squad. But what is the United States government going to do to the agents of Boloism still operating in this country? The firing squad is the only effective method for exterminating traitors.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Hindoo trials are not over yet. Eleven attorneys, representing thirty-two defendants, are to be heard, and a time schedule has been arranged by which they are to argue for twelve hours. Verily, the Hindoo trials are not over yet.

Some of the senators from the wilds of the West are inquisitive. Thomas of Colorado inquired by resolution about the swivel-chair contingent. It developed the fact that 1772 army officers of draft age, who have received commissions since the outbreak of the war, are in Washington with staff assignments, furnishing statistics on a subject that has been somewhat discussed, but not definitely settled.

A bill that has just been introduced in Congress, to put all cases where sedition has been charged under military jurisdiction, with courts-martial when trial is found to be justifiable, will make it different. There is growing impatience with the halting methods of justice as it is being civilly administered in such cases.

"Long range gun kills one woman in Paris." More cause for rejoicing in Hunland, and for a return of thanks to Omnipotence for prospering the Kaiser's cause.

An intensely practical step has been taken in placing Charles M. Schwab in charge of national shipbuilding operations. These practical ideas are readily followed in transportation and shipbuilding lines, and there may be wonder as to why they are not extended to some other national activities.

The charge is made that we are entirely too hysteric over enemy activities. It may be so, but it is extremely irritating that people who come to this country to escape onerous conditions in another and finding extraordinary opportunity here should seek to betray this government for the one they left and to which they would under no circumstances willingly return.

"The poor boob" is an expression that is frequently heard, and it has never been as appropriately applied as it might be to one Charles of Austria, as he curls up under Hun orders.

Interesting statistics are furnished in a list of eleven cities and their percentages of subscriptions to date to the current Liberty Loan. The highest is St. Louis, 55 per cent. The next is Dallas, 35 per cent. Then comes in order Chicago, New York, Boston, Cleveland, Kansas City, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Richmond and Atlanta. San Francisco is a tie with Kansas City 24 per cent. Atlanta has subscribed but 5 per cent of its quota.

The knack of keeping in the public eye is possessed by some people in an extraordinary degree. It required three years to get one George D. Collins into San Quentin, and he was there more than eight years, but he has been on the front page all the time. Now that he has emerged he gets profusely illustrated.

The Colusa Sun is loyal to the horse and transportation methods of other days: "Oakland and San Jose are going to have a stage line 'between 'em.' That's good. If they are going to have horse power for these stages, it is to be hoped that the two cities will have at least one lively stable each, and a water tank en route. A town is upside down if it gives up all of the horses and their worth for the new machines that break their necks."

The Record speaks for a magnificent constituency: "Stockton regrets that she was not first to win that honor flag in the Liberty Loan, but extends her congratulations to the town of Kerman, which must be a good place to live in."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

An indication of the manner in which railroad congestion is forcing lumber companies to bring the motor truck into use, both as a means of hauling the rough product from the woods to the mill and the finished product from mill to market, was evidenced here yesterday when a train of great motor trucks passed through en route to a big lumber camp at the Oregon-California line. — Marysville Appeal.

The lines between the patriotic citizens of the country and those who have a sneaking sympathy for the Kaiser are becoming more tightly drawn all the time. There are just two classes of people in this country—those who are for the government and those who are against it. We have no use for the latter here and they should be got rid of, and the sooner the better. — Richmond Record-Herald.

The movement to discontinue the study of German in the schools is in keeping with the spirit of the times, and should be made nation-wide. Love of Germany was maintained by many people through their aversion to continue to use that language in this country. This is an American nation, with American principles of justice and right, and henceforward no language but the English, which is our native tongue, should be allowed to be taught in schools where Germany and love of the Kaiser are the first teachings of the young. — Stockton Record.

"Bull" Croll, baseball player, soccer star and all-around good soldier, had a new role wished on him recently by his fellow Grizzlies. Croll had boasted of his ability as a camp cook and was given an assignment on the kitchen detail. Supposed to arrive at 5 o'clock in the morning to start breakfast, Croll energetically started in to mix batter for griddle cakes. He proceeded well enough until he got to the batter, when he was summarily fired from the kitchen. "As a cook Croll is a very fair right fielder," was the verdict of the kitchen detail. — San Diego Union.

Some unscrubbling ahead.

More and more our industries are coming under government control. Each week sees an inevitable widening of powers in this respect; also a closer and more effective coordination of the various industries for the purpose of more vigorous prosecution of the war. Before this war is ended there will be a far deeper intrusion of Government into business affairs than the most ardent Socialist ever dared to believe three short years ago; and in due season the huge and cumbersome government machine we have created. The telephone and telegraph lines appear to be next in line to come under government control. — Topeka State Journal.

So hurry up, don't hesitate To get a War Certificate, And help equip the men in camps By buying Thrift and Savings Stamps.

Thus everyone, both great and small Can answer to his country's call, And put at Uncle Sam's command The money saved throughout the land.

THE JESTER

Calling the Kettle Black. "I despise a hypocrite. Now there's Johnson, for example; he's the biggest hypocrite on earth."

"But you appear to be his best friend."

"Oh, yes; I try to appear friendly towards him. It pays better in the end." —Boston Transcript.

I Thank You. A young clerk was called before the manager.

"Mr. Jones, of late your work has been very perfunctory."

Just as he was going to ask for an explanation, the young clerk broke in:

"Mr. Smith, I've been working here for three months now, and though I have tried my best, there has not been a word of praise I have received. Thank you."

—New York Sun.

TAFT & PENNOYER COMPANY

Finest Display of Cretonnes

*New Beauty in Wonderful Variety
Surprising Economies in Durable
Fabrics at Prices of a Year Ago*

FOR SUMMER HOME DRAPERIES, curtains, furniture coverings and other decorations no material is more cheerful, serviceable and generally desirable than Cretonnes.

—They have always been a Taft specialization from the time many years ago when the only good Cretonnes came from England and France. Each year the Taft showing has been the finest in this vicinity.

—It is nothing unusual, therefore, that our collection of new Cretonnes should be the most beautiful and representative that can be found, yet we believe that even those who know this store best will be surprised at the variety and the new charm of the showing we have ready.

—Floral patterns have a new loveliness—and they will always be the most popular. There are other designs, too, that stir interest and arrest attention. Egyptian, Chinese, Japanese—the quaint figurings and rich colors of the Far East have been made newly useful for our own room decorations. There are tapestry and chintz patterns also, so rich and vivid that it seems hardly possible they can have been produced by color printing.

—Our Clay and 15th street windows show some of the newest imported Cretonnes in Chinese, verdure and floral patterns at

$ 1.75 to $ 5.50 yd.

—American Cretonnes fine enough for any requirement are here in a truly wonderful variety—many patterns being shown at

60c to $ 1.25 yd.
